

THINK TANK - EXPERT GROUP FORUM Practice Enterprise for Language Teaching

Venue: Hotel Angelo, U Prazdroje 6, CZ-301 00 Plzeň, Tel.: +420 378 016 111, Fax: +420 378 016 016, E-Mail: info@angelo-pilsen.cz, Saturday 17 September 2011, 10:00 – 16:15 hrs

The PELLIC Project Group invites interested professionals to a forum to exchange ideas and expertise as well as best practice on running language classes with a special focus on PE methodology. Partners of the PELLIC project will present their results and materials produced during the project. They will demonstrate how Moodle can be used and adapted to support a wide range of international PE activities, and show how other tools can be integrated to create an authentic learning scenario, i.e. using Second Life® as means of creating an exhibition space, Google Apps for collaborative writing, as well as Skype for international contacts and sales calls.

Speakers from companies actually running practice enterprises will be invited as well as professionals of the EUROOPEN network.

Date / Time	Agenda
17 September 2011
9:30	Registration / Coffee
10:00	Welcome note Jana Cepickova , University of West Bohemia, PELLIC Partner and Host of the Forum and Marjatta Rännäli , Turku University of Applied Linguistic, PELLIC Project Coordinator, Introduction of Guest Speakers
10:15	Keynotes - presentations Introduction to Practice Enterprise Methodology – What is it? How and where is it used? Speakers from EUROOPEN/ FINNPEC/ National Agency/ CEFIF (Practice Firm Central Office) (to be confirmed)
11:15	Introduction to PELLIC , the PE pedagogic approach adopted in PELLIC Marjatta Rännäli , (TUAS) The PELLIC VLE: Andreas Glombitza (University of Tübingen), Using SecondLife as means for creating an exhibition space: Jana Cepickova (University of West Bohemia) and Christel Schneider , (ICC-the international language association) PELLIC-type learning units Anne-Marie Jünger (TUAS) and other partners Summary of course results Marjatta Rännäli and other project partners.
12:30	Setting parameters for the day Jana Cepickova , Prof Mercedes Aznar and Laura Uixera (Florida University of higher Education, Spain)
13:00	Lunch
14:00	Working groups: The work groups match the morning topics, and are chaired by the presenters of the morning topics.
15:00	Each group presents their findings
15:30	Summing up Nick Andon (King's College, London)
15:45	Ideas drafted into proposals for producing guidelines Rob Williams (ICC, University of Westminster)
16:00 – 16:15	CLOSE Marjatta Rännäli (Turku University)

The day will take the form of focussed discussion groups with a view to raise awareness of PE methodology in language teaching looking at forms of marketability and defining guidelines how this might be achieved.

PELLIC (Project No: 504823-LLP-1-2009-1-FI-KA2-KA2) is a project which has been funded with support from the European Commission It is coordinated by Turku University of Applied Sciences (Finland) in cooperation with: Florida Centre de Formació, C.V. (Spain), University of West Bohemia, Pilsen ,(Czech Republic), King's College London (GB); University of Tübingen (Germany) and ICC – the international language association (Germany)